

I hope this message is not too late... just getting around to checking my e-mails. Stop messing around with my xm radio. Where I live it is one of the few things that is consistent. Since I pay for my services, you shouldn't be allowed to dictate what I want to listen to... this government is becoming to controlling, who are you tell me what I can or cannot listen to. People in office need to listen to the voters, after all we put you there and we can take you out.
